

The Hopkinsville Surface & Stormwater Utility recently won an award at the Kentucky League of Cities ceremony in Lexington, Kentucky for the installation of the Woodmont Detention Basin System. The Utility used the monetary award to make a $1000 donation to the Hopkinsville Red Cross. The money is to be used to help Hopkinsville flood victims.
